

For adult passengers three tickets shall be sold for 25 cents upon all cars. Children shall be issued good as hereinafter.

Judge Geiger is of the opinion that the application for an injunction should be denied.

City to Continue Fight. Attorneys for both sides asserted that the federal court had no power to issue the injunction, but that the court can prescribe conditions upon which an injunction will issue. The companies' attorneys asserted that the United States Supreme court had cautioned subordinate judges to use extreme care in prescribing conditions. The question of a permanent injunction will be next in order.

But the Illinois commerce commission is free to take up rate adjustment again, and between the limits set by the federal judges can fix another rate. Corporation Counsel Etzelton said last night that the city will continue its fight for a nickel fare. He added: "The only real solution of the whole subject is Mayor Thompson's plan for municipal operation and ownership at a permanent 5 cent rate."

With the injunction, under the conditions prescribed, the city administration can now assert that its hands are tied, although it asked repeatedly and specifically that a fare be named by the judges beyond which the companies could not go as a condition to the injunction.

Wage Cut Is Suggested. During the hearing it was suggested that a wage cut of 25 per cent from 50 to 37 cents an hour for men and conductors—for all employees would permit the companies to reduce fares from 5 to 1 cent.

While the order of the judges provides for a larger reduction in fares, there is nothing in the decree to indicate what wage reduction they considered. If the surface lines patrons pay tickets in the same proportion as elevated road riders the surface lines will collect $22,000,000 fares at 7 cents each and $27,000,000 fares at 5 cents in the next year. This is on the basis of the present traffic, although the commerce commission and city predict $9,000,000 additional fares with a reduced charge.

Trains in Other Cities. The total pay roll of the surface lines was in excess of $36,000,000 last year. A cut of 25 per cent consequently will trim $7,500,000 from that expense. Philadelphia cut trainmen's wages yesterday from 64 to 62½ cents an hour. The scale in that city is the average, by agreement, of that of Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, and Chicago. The reduced wage in Philadelphia was because of a cut in Cleveland from 60 to 58 cents a week ago. Under the Philadelphia system, wages will be cut there again if there is a reduction in Chicago. Detroit, under municipal ownership, announced ten days ago that there would be no wage reductions.

Author of Many Popular Songs Dies a Pauper

New York, June 1.—That the Paul Barnes, who died in Manhattan state hospital, Ward's island, on May 8, insane, blind, and a pauper, was the author of "Good-by, Dolly Gray," the battle chant of American soldiers and sailors in the war against Spain, became known today.

Barnes was also the author of many other songs and popular tunes. Among some fifty are "Josephine, My Joe," "Down by the Riverside," "Dreaming," "Venetian Moon," and "Mammy Jenny's Lullaby."

ITALY FASCISTI DEFY TROOPS IN ATTACK ON REDS

ROME, June 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—The situation at Bologna, where organized Fascist bandits broke out yesterday, was still grave today, although the city has been divided into four zones under military authority.

All the shops of the city were closed today to allow the tradespeople to attend a mass meeting called by the Fascists to demand the removal of Prefect Bori, who is accused of being pro-Socialist.

Reprisals by the Fascists against Communists and Socialists continue in the country surrounding Bologna. At Bologna incendiary bombs destroyed a local cooperative warehouse, causing damage estimated at half a million lire. The Fascists prevented the firemen from extinguishing the blaze.

At Poggio Varicello several houses were burned. At Castello Pergine the Socialist club was set on fire and the blaze threatened the carabinieri's barracks. Two officers of the royal guards were beaten by Fascists.

All the Fascist members of parliament have been called to meet here under the presidency of Deputy Mussolini to decide upon a common attitude toward the events in Bologna.

FINAL BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS IS MADE BY FORD

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Two committees of congress today resumed study of plans for developing the government projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., with a view to presenting completed proposals to the house and senate for final disposition.

First reports were that Edward M. Fitzgerald, president of the railway clerks, who suggested the Cincinnati parley, expected the heads of all sixteen standard railroad unions to attend B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, said last night, however, he believed it doubtful that the train and engine service union chiefs would participate inasmuch as their men are not affected by the labor board wage decisions now being issued.

Wage disputes involving these classes, which include the Big Four brotherhoods, will not be taken up for some time—until after their working rules, upon which hearings are still to be had, have been promulgated by the board.

One Policy for All. Jewell, as Fitzgerald, said the aim of the Cincinnati meeting would be to formulate a uniform policy to be followed in regard to the latest pay cuts. The wage decision expected to slash the pay of 200,000 railway telegraphers, clerks, and some smaller classes probably will not be forthcoming for several days, it was said last night. The seeming certainty that it is impending, however, already has been discounted as "just another grievance."

In view of the fact that the national convention of the American Federation of Labor is scheduled to open in Cincinnati a week from today, it is deemed likely President Samuel Gompers will attend some of the conferences of the rail union men. That he will have a voice in determining the policy to be adopted seems certain.

REALTORS HAVE LIVELY TIME AT COAST MEETING

San Francisco, Cal., June 1.—[Special.]—Chicago delegates to the fifteenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards had a busy time today, between sightseeing and convention work.

At the early convention conferences Charles B. Ball of the department of health of Chicago discussed "City Planning and Zoning." At the afternoon conference on "Office Systems and Management" Louis T. Orr of Chicago spoke on "Departmentalizing the Office."

At a meeting of the board of secretaries J. M. Waterfield of Chicago was elected president.

A romance of the realtors was revealed today when it became known that Willis Judd, a member of the Chicago delegation and son of Edward S. Judd, founder of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, is to wed Miss Era Lambuth, daughter of R. Letcher Lambuth, leading realtor of Seattle. They will live in San Francisco.

NEW 50 MILLION RAIL PAY SLASH DUE TOMORROW

Regardless of gathering strike clouds, the United States Railroad Labor board, according to reports, will tomorrow issue a decision adding $50,000,000 or more to the wage reduction grievances of railway labor.

This order, applying to 500,000 shop crafts employees, will, it is predicted, aggravate the seriousness of the situation created last Sunday, when the labor board announced a $48,000,000 cut in the annual pay of 400,000 maintenance of way men.

Complete Meeting Plans. Meanwhile arrangements for the joint meeting extraordinary of rail union chiefs in Cincinnati next week, probably Tuesday, were being completed yesterday, and the strike ballots authorized this week by the grand council of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers were being prepared at the organization's national headquarters in Detroit.

First reports were that Edward M. Fitzgerald, president of the railway clerks, who suggested the Cincinnati parley, expected the heads of all sixteen standard railroad unions to attend B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, said last night, however, he believed it doubtful that the train and engine service union chiefs would participate inasmuch as their men are not affected by the labor board wage decisions now being issued.

BLOODIEST DAY IN BELFAST WAR TAKES 14 LIVES

43 Wounded and 19 Fires
Started by Rioters.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fighting between republican troops and Ulster specials began this evening and is now in progress along a mile front on the Louth border, according to advices to the Central News. Seven lorry loads of British troops have been rushed to the scene from Newry.

BELFAST, June 1.—The last twenty-four hours have been the bloodiest in Belfast since July, 1921.

Fourteen were killed, forty-three were wounded, and there have been sixteen fires since yesterday afternoon. Apparently the republican gunmen who started the riots are not among the casualties. They generally escape, leaving their noncombatant co-religionists to bear the brunt of the reprisals for their deeds. Compulsed by the Belfast turmoil, the frontier activities have become insignificant.

After a lull during the night, incendiaries began again today. Local mobs got out of hand and burned houses from where firing was supposed to have come. Between 10 o'clock and the screams of women were heard. Bodies lay for hours in the streets, as nobody dared pick them up. Last evening mobs attacked saloons belonging to suspects and boys peddled liquor through the streets.

Sinn Fein Uses Machine Gun.
Often bombs started fires. Among the killed was a paralyzed Protestant and a Catholic woman and her daughter.

The firing here suggests an active day on the front in France, but most of the shots go wild or into the crowds. Youngsters spread out of employment by the depression in the ship building industries have joined mobs in hopes of getting loot.

Sinn Feiners employed a machine gun with little effect today.

The Ulster constabulary replaced the old Royal Irish constabulary today. Many of the latter enlisted in the new force. Ulster has launched navy motor boats on Lough Erne to meet the Sinn Fein demands on Fermanagh. A woman commands the flagship.

It is certain that the southern gunmen are partly responsible for the sufferings of the Catholics in Belfast. They aggravate the situation which the sectarian and political menace have already rendered acute.

APPROVE "WAR PLAN"

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, June 1.—Lord Cavan, chief of the imperial general staff, attended the cabinet meeting at Downing street today and submitted his plans for military operations in Ireland by British troops to suppress the outlaws.

It is understood that a majority of the cabinet, including Prime Minister Lloyd George, approved the plans, which Lord Cavan and Sir Edmund Worthington Evans, the minister of war, are prepared to put into execution on a few hours' notice should the government give orders for military action in Ireland.

Reinforcements of British troops have been ordered to Ireland, the 1st battalion of the Manchester regiment, which recently arrived at Guernsey from Ireland, being sent to Belfast. It is believed that action by British troops will come quickly if the border warfare and Belfast fighting continues.

Lord Balfour was called into the Irish conference today when the prime minister asked the acting foreign minister to mediate between Sir James Craig and the Marquis of Londonderry, who arrived this morning.

NO REPORT FROM SIX BALLOONS; SIX OTHERS SAFE

Two Land Near Town in Missouri.

Six of the twelve balloons which sailed from Milwaukee Wednesday in the national race had not been heard from at 1 o'clock this morning. The others all landed at some time during yesterday or last night.

Two of the balloons singularly picked out the vicinity of Fulton, Mo., for their landing place.

First the balloon piloted by J. S. McKibben of St. Louis descended at Fulton at 3 o'clock in the afternoon after having covered approximately 350 miles. Then, last night, the balloon piloted by Warren Raso of Brookville, O., accompanied by E. V. Williams, a reporter of the Milwaukee Telegram, landed on a field just north of the town.

Upson Lands at Painesville.
Capt. John Berry of St. Louis descended at Monticello, Ill., 200 miles from the starting point.

Bernard Von Hoffman, St. Louis, came down at Port Wayne, Ind., after covering only about 200 miles in approximately nineteen hours' flying time.

The balloon Townsend, piloted by Ralph H. Upson of Detroit, Mich., and with C. G. Andrus of Washington, D. C., as aid, landed at 7 o'clock last night at Painesville, O., after having spent ten hours in crossing Lake Erie, according to a dispatch received from Mr. Upson last night.

The United States army balloon No. 5, piloted by Lieut. James T. Neely of Rose field, California, landed near Dover Village, O., about fifteen miles from Cleveland, at 1 o'clock this morning. Lieut. Neely and his aid, Lieut. Frank Jordan, came to Cleveland in an automobile and are spending the night there.

Coast Guards Sent Out.
Reports late last night said that a squad of United States coast guards had been sent out when word was received that a balloon was flying low over Lake Erie about two miles east of that city and was sending out skyrockets, but that the balloon later succeeded in getting out of a wind pocket and after "ballast" had been dropped it rose. It was next reported down at Day Village. Whether this was the Townsend or the army balloon has not been made clear.

Jeweler's Agent Held After Diamonds He Had Vanish.
Max Plan, 1243 South Spaulding avenue, who reported to Chief Hughes he had been robbed of $5,000 worth of uncut diamonds by two men who jostled him in a hotel entrance, was last night held at the detective bureau.

CHICAGO TEACHERS JOIN FIGHT TO OUST ELGIN SCHOOL HEAD

Chicago school teachers joined forces yesterday with Elgin citizens who are fighting to bring about the removal of Robert L. White as superintendent of schools.

A committee from the Chicago Teachers' federation, headed by Miss Mary M. Abbe, president, attended the funeral in Elgin yesterday of Miss Mary E. Long, school principal, who ended her life Tuesday after a long illness.

Other members of the committee were Miss Mary Dwyer, recording secretary; Miss Frances E. Harden, corresponding secretary; and Miss Nora M. O'Connor, organizer. The committee visited the home of Miss Long bearing a huge floral piece and a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Jennie Long, the teacher's aged mother.

"It took the sacrifice of the life of your beloved daughter and our co-worker, Mary Long, to awaken the people of Elgin to action against the frightful injustice done to Elgin teachers," the message read. "Her martyrdom must not and shall not be in vain. Through the sacrifice of her life will come a measure of justice and freedom to all teachers."

21,000 PACKAGES OF GUM FOR FAKE SOW, HIS STORY.
That a "big time China" sow through whose hams and bacon courses ordinary blood instead of the very blue fluid she was represented as having, was sold to William R. Wrigley Jr., millionaire chewing gum king, for $1,050 was asserted yesterday at Marion, O., by H. A. Holdridge Jr., confessing part to a gigantic live stock swindle on "farmers and others."

Linc Lukens and sons of Disco, O., own a farm and control the "Indiana Farmers' Guide," Holdridge declared. By press-ganging the hogs in the publication, they are able to get for them exorbitant prices, he said.

"If my hog man really did get stuck," Wrigley said last night, "that fellow was certainly going some."

SHE READS PALM. OF BANKERGRATIS BANK SHY $1,000

Clarence Flanders, cashiering as usual yesterday in the Trust and Savings bank of West Chicago, suffered the balm of June's initial offering to level momentarily his bump of caution. He was dreaming of green fields and shaded streams when a spy, garbed like a patch of autumnal woods, glided up to his cage.

"Change for a quarter, please," she chirped. Then, as she shoved over two dimes and a nickel: "Ah, your palm! I see in it great things for you. Let me tell your fortune. It will cost you nothing—it is good!"

The caged door swung open and Flanders invited the gypsy in and caution out.

"You will have good fortune—surely," the gypsy crooned, as she traced Flanders' palm. "Good fortune, truly—but you will lose a lot of money soon—a lot of money."

Soon the gypsy departed and flattered away. But prophecy stuck with Flanders long enough to justify itself in the cashier's discovery that a package of bills totaling $1,000 had departed with the serena.

Police, so far, have sought her in vain, but caution abides again with Flanders.

DEAD IN GAS FILLED ROOM.
The body of Louis Goldberger, 35, was found in a gas filled room in his tailor shop at 5031 North Clark street yesterday morning.

Take "Witness" in Ward Affair for New Questioning

New York, June 1.—(Special.)—District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks announced late tonight that a New York newspaper had turned over to him a man named James J. Cunningham, who is now being held as a material witness in the shooting of Clarence Peters by Walter S. Ward.

According to Cunningham's statement, Ward not only killed Peters but shot and wounded another man, who was taken to his mother's home in the Bronx after the shooting.

The motive for the shooting, according to the witness, was involved in Ward's discovery that Peters and his companion had attempted to trap him. Whether the shooting occurred in Ward's home at New Rochelle, on the lonely road near the Kensico road, where Peters' body was found at 3 a. m. on May 16, or at some other place, was not made clear in the prosecutor's statement.

Traded for Three Days.
The prosecutor said Cunningham had been taken into custody by Sheriff George J. Werner and was being brought to the county jail at White Plains by automobile. He will be thoroughly examined tomorrow, Mr. Weeks said.

According to Mr. Weeks, Cunningham gave only a brief statement to the authorities tonight. Mr. Weeks' announcement was as follows:

"A New York paper [the American] has turned over to the sheriff a man who tells a story in connection with the Ward case. This man was traded for three days, following the receipt of an anonymous letter."

"He first told one story, but when confronted by the sheriff and the district attorney, and upon questioning by these officials, he changed his story. Nevertheless he stated that the second man said to have been shot by Ward was a former private detective."

"He stated that a short time after the shooting the wounded man was brought in a touring car to his mother's home in the Bronx."

Said to Be Track Employee.
The man evidently knows a great deal more than he has told about the case. He says the shooting came out of an effort to trap Walter S. Ward. His name is James J. Cunningham. His address is in the Bronx somewhere."

Mr. Weeks said Cunningham was not an eye witness of the shooting, but knew about the visit of Peters and the other man to Ward on the night of May 15. Cunningham is a race-track employee who is or was attached to the stables of Commodore J. K. Ross, the Canadian horseman.

After he had given out Cunningham's story tonight District Attorney Weeks said no action against Ward would be taken during the night on the strength of the new information. He said he would decide tomorrow what to do.

Cannot Identify "Rosa."
The doubt that there actually were any "Charlie Ross" and "Jack" in the Ward case was increased today. Ward, confronted with Nathan Rosen-

swig, alias Charlie Ross, admitted he was not the man of that name present when Peters was killed.

To support Ward's statement that men known to him as Charlie Ross and Jack were accomplices of Peters in robbing $10,000 from Ward in connection with a race track affair, an employee of the Ward Baking company was quoted in a New Rochelle newspaper today as saying that such men frequently visited or telephoned Ward at his office and hounded him for money he owed to bookmakers.

Concurrently with the revival of the race track story there was a revival of gossip in New Rochelle about card games for big stakes in Ward's home there. Ward was portrayed as an inveterate gambler who would bet unbelievably large sums on the most trivial kinds of wagers. Why a passion for cards should bring a rich young man like Ward into the society of a shabby youth like Peters, however, was not clear.

Yet it was recalled that when Sheriff George J. Werner exhibited the pack of playing cards found in Peters' pocket, the backs of the cards were marked and a straight flush of diamonds was missing.

Find Woman Who Sued Ward.
Los Angeles, Cal., May 31.—Miss Martha Kendall, who once filed a suit charging criminal conspiracy against Walter S. Ward, has been located in the Hollywood district by the Los Angeles Times. The police at Pittsburgh are said to have urged the White Plains authorities to hunt for Miss Kendall in the hope she could aid them in the present case.

Miss Kendall, a modiste, said she had not seen Ward for several years, since shortly after his father, George S. Ward, settled with her out of court her $10,000 suit against his son. She asserted the younger Ward had broken into her apartment and attempted to kidnap her.

"I can throw light upon the mystery, all right," the Times quoted Miss Kendall. "I know a few things that those interested in prosecuting Mr. Ward would like to know. I'll tell all I know if they ask me—not till then."

TRIBUNE DEFENSE IN LIBEL TRIAL TO BEGIN TODAY

Mayor's Lawyers Finish
Reading of Articles.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

After reading the sevenfold exhibit from files of THE TRIBUNE and placing Commissioner of Public Works Charles R. Francis on the witness stand to establish that Mayor Thompson was the man referred to in the first of the published articles complained of, the mayor's attorneys concluded their libel case in chief against THE TRIBUNE yesterday afternoon, with the possible exception of one witness. Witnesses for the defense will go on the stand today.

Most of the articles and editorials read by Attorney David H. Jackson showed the opposition of THE TRIBUNE to the mayor in his various political campaigns since 1917. He read a dispatch from Baltimore, printed June 23, 1917, in which the Rev. Herbert Kinsolving, Episcopal bishop of Texas, is quoted as saying that in his opinion the mayor of Chicago was "guilty of treason and ought to be shot."

Editorials Read Into Record.

Editorials headed "Smoke Screen for Disloyalty," "No Soldiers on Thompson Tickets," "Big Bunk Must Explain," and "Prig Ties," all attacks on Thompson and his organization during 1920, were read into the record. A news article on this libel suit, printed Oct. 17, 1920, with the heading, "Only Truth Told About Thompson, TRIBUNE Avers," was offered by Mr. Jackson as showing malice. He said it was "campaign stuff during a gubernatorial election." Attorney Weymouth Kirkland for THE TRIBUNE argued that it was a privileged place and was sustained. Mr. Kirkland said at this point:

"I think there ought to be a limit to this. There is no question but that THE TRIBUNE has been opposed to Mayor Thompson politically since 1917, the start of the war, and there is no question that whenever he was interested in a campaign we said that, because of his record, as we understood it, he ought not to get the votes or the patronage of the people, or his candidates on that."

Objects to Republican's Report.

An argument then arose, outside the presence of the jury, over the June issue of the Republican, dated June 3, which had just appeared on the streets. Mr. Kirkland complained that the issue contained matter that might prejudice the jury. One paragraph was given to Mr. Kirkland's opening address and a full page devoted to the attitude of the mayor as set forth by Attorney David H. Jackson.

Attorney Charles O. K.

"I regret that we cannot put some of our German-American editors on the firing line in the first line trenches, but far more willfully wicked and culpable than they is the mayor of the city."

Report of Proceedings O. K.

"While this case is on it is all right to report the proceedings," said the court, "but if you have any influence over the Republican, otherwise I will have to send for them to come in, tell them to make no comments on whether or not false and malicious charges are made by counsel on one side or the other. If I am understood, a transcript of the record that goes on in the proceedings which take place in the court is fair comment without charge of libelous or malicious falsehoods."

After reading the articles in the Republican the court said further:

"If it appears to me that either THE TRIBUNE or the Republican is now

Stolen Checks Back

Dorothy and Albert Burchard.

Checks for $40, stolen Sunday morning from Albert Burchard, of Des Plaines, Ill., were returned to his sister, Dorothy Marie Burchard, yesterday morning in a letter mailed at Irving Park postal station. Miss Burchard, proprietor of a beauty shop, was abducted a month ago and found lying at the roadside with a wire tightened around her throat. There is no reason why the checks should be returned to her, excepting, she believes, there may be some connection between her abduction and the robbery of her brother's room. The robbers kept $341 in cash.

Picking out particular witnesses who are going to testify in this case in writing articles concerning them, if it becomes apparent to me there is an obvious purpose in it to influence the jury against the testimony of such witnesses, I may take steps at that time, in the proper way, to call these people in front of me and find out whether they are obstructing or attempting to obstruct justice. That appeals to me more than anything in this article."

Paper Placed in Records.

"If any paper picks out a part of the testimony, and keeps it up by playing up the part that is favorable to one side, I hope your honor will do exactly as you have said," responded Mr. Cleveland.

The issue of the Republican was placed in the records of the case.

Further editorials were read by Mr. Jackson in which THE TRIBUNE referred to the alleged fact that printed copies of speeches by Mayor Thompson were dropped behind the American lines in France by German aviators. Editorials and cartoons also represented the mayor as pro-German. This evidence was cumulative, and several articles offered were ruled out by the court, but read into the record.

Commissioner Francis Testifies.

Mr. Francis was examined by Mr. Cleveland. During 1917, the witness said, he was attorney for the board of education. He was shown plaintiff exhibit 8, an article printed in THE TRIBUNE July 30, 1917, which purported to be a speech of the late Judge William A. Vincent in Fort Sheridan. The article follows, under the heading, "Wicked and Culpable Mayor."

SMALL GAVE HIM PACKERS' NOTES, MILLER TESTIFIES

Treasurer Tells How He Received $10,000,000.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Waukegan, Ill., June 1.—(Special.)—State Treasurer Edward E. Miller took the witness stand today in the trial of Gov. Len Small and testified it was the governor who turned over to him nearly $10,000,000 worth of Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. notes after he (Miller) had taken charge of the treasurer's office early last year.

This was considered the biggest single point in Mr. Miller's testimony. The defense has contended strongly that there would be no evidence to show that Small had any personal connection with any of the transactions in "packers' notes."

Mr. Miller's predecessor as treasurer was Fred E. Sterling, now lieutenant governor. Mr. Miller testified he asked Sterling for the securities represented by $10,000,000 shown on the books as the "safe account." He was referred to Gov. Small, who had been employed in the treasurer's office by Sterling.

Small Then Governor.

The witness testified the securities were delivered to him on Jan. 15, 1921. Small then had been governor for five days. Mr. Miller said he was taken to the governor's office, where the governor drew from his pocket and handed to him $9,900,000 in Armour and Swift notes. The remaining $100,000 was covered by notes and mortgages, which were the governor's personal property.

At this same meeting, Miller said, he was handed the $10,000,000 in certificates of deposit of the Grant Park bank. These were not turned over to him by Small, but by Vernon S. Curtis, who had succeeded his brother, the late Edward C. Curtis, as head of the "Grant Park bank," to which all funds in the "safe account" were turned.

Still Has Certificates.

Mr. Miller testified he still has these certificates of deposit in his possession, although he considers them cancelled by his collection of $9,900,000 from Swift and Armour and the payment of the remaining $100,000 by a check brought to him by Leslie Small, son of the governor.

Because of court rulings sustaining objections by the defense he was not permitted to tell how or when he collected the packers' notes. The exhibits showing the additional $100,000 in notes and mortgages also were kept out by objections of the governor's counsel.

The treasurer's testimony was brief. For the first time since the trial began State's Attorney C. F. Mortimer of Sangamon county, where the indictment was filed, and the cross-examination of C. C. LaFollette, of Decatur, chief for the defense, took only fifteen minutes.

Brundage Hears Testimony.

That Miller was to take the stand had become known and the courtroom was half filled, an unusual condition; in addition, there were a number of distinguished visitors.

Attorney General E. J. Brundage made his second appearance at the state table. On the governor's bench or near by were several members of his cabinet, including C. R. Miller, chairman of the State Board of Education, State Senator Richard J. Barr, the governor's floor leader in the last legislature, also was present.

Proceeding chronologically, Mr. Mortimer asked Treasurer Miller concerning a conversation he had with Gov. Small in Springfield between the election of 1920 and the inauguration on Jan. 15, 1921. He said Small suggested that he give the same sort of bond as his predecessor—a bond signed by individuals and not by a surety company.

Small Company Would Probe.

"He said," continued the witness, "that the personal bond would require

"There is $100,000 short." My recollection is, the governor turned to Curtis and said: "Vern—I don't recall the security he mentioned, but he stated that it was too bulky to bring down, and he said, 'You will have to give him something else to cover that $100,000.' Then they held a conversation between them to which I was not a party and it resolved itself down to where the governor loaned Mr. Curtis some other securities and they turned them over to me.

Q.—What was the aggregate amount of those securities? A.—$100,000, to cover the $100,000. My recollection is it was $75,000, a note signed by E. C. Curtis for $75,000, another one, I believe for $5,000, a mortgage signed by some other party for $15,000, and still another mortgage for $7,500.

Q.—Those last securities, whatever the amounts were, were turned over to you by him? A.—They were turned over to me, as I understood it, by the governor because they were his securities.

Q.—Did you receive any other papers from anybody in the governor's office at that time? A.—The governor turned to Vern and said, "Vern, give Ed the certificates," and Mr. Curtis handed me certificates aggregating $100,000.

Told to See Governor.

Q.—(By Mr. Mortimer)—See whom? A.—Len Small. He referred to him as Len. If I would see the governor that he would turn the securities over to me.

Q.—Did you see the governor in person at that suggestion? A.—My recollection is that on the following day or on Wednesday I called on the governor at his office and asked him about that particular item of $100,000.

Q.—What did he say and what did you say? A.—He replied that those securities were in Chicago, that I could go to Chicago and check them or that he would bring them to me at Springfield, which ever I preferred.

Q.—Then what did you say and what did he say? A.—I replied I would prefer that he bring those securities to me at Springfield.

Notified of Arrival.

Continuing, Mr. Miller said Gov. Small told him the securities would be brought from Chicago and he would be notified when they arrived. His office was notified and was kept open the following Saturday awaiting the governor's return. When the train was due, Miller said, he went to the railroad station and met the governor, who was accompanied by Vernon S. Curtis. The three went to the governor's office.

Q.—What did you do in the governor's office? A.—We went in the governor's office and the governor said they had the securities ready to deliver to me. I believe he carried them in his pocket, and he took them out and said, "Here they are."

Q.—What was done when he pulled the securities out of his pocket? A.—I opened the envelope and started to check over what I found were notes, notes of Armour & Co. and Swift & Co.

Q.—Do you remember the aggregate amount of the notes of Armour & Co.? A.—Yes, sir, the aggregate amount of the notes of Armour & Co. was $5,500,000 and Swift & Co. was $4,400,000.

Q.—Finds Them $100,000 Short.

Q.—Then what happened? A.—Then that made a total of $9,900,000, and I

turned to the governor and said:

"There is $100,000 short." Securities Taken Up.

Mr. Miller testified that seven or eight days later Leslie Small brought to him a cashier's check of the First Trust and Savings bank of Kankakee, of which Small is president, for $100,000 and he gave the governor's son the notes and mortgages given as security for that amount.

Long argument developed when the witness was asked about a later conversation he had with Sterling, but he was allowed to tell of it.

"Sterling asked me what I intended to do regarding the other collections of the securities turned over to me. I replied that I intended to collect them."

"He then said, 'Ed, be careful what you do. We are all friends of yours and you can't do anything without hurting some of us.'"

$12,522,000 IS SLIPPED OVER IN SCHOOL BUDGET

Charges that Thompson members of the board of education, as represented by Edwin S. Davis, president, and Albert H. Seeringhaus, vice president, gained approval of $12,522,000—nearly twice the 1921 expenditure—as the amount to be allotted the building fund in the 1922 budget, by literally smuggling it through a board meeting, four months ago, developed yesterday.

These charges, which seem to be supported by a stenographic report of the board's meeting of Feb. 1, taken for the Chicago Teachers' Federation, will be thrashed out today at a meeting of the board of education finance committee.

The fact that the 1922 building fund appropriation already had been "approved" by them months ago became known to some members of the board Wednesday. This was when, during a session of the finance committee, Trustee Hart Hanson, leading rebel against the Davis-Seeringhaus boss rule, attacked alleged extravagant expenditures from the building fund.

Out of Order.

Mr. Hanson was informed his remarks were out of order, since the amount to be devoted to the building fund already had been approved Feb. 1. Hanson appeared indignant.

Miss Margaret A. Haley, business representative of the Chicago Teachers' Federation, was present. Interested because she charged, needless expenditure have lessened chances of the city's 7,000 elementary school teachers for getting salary increases, Miss Haley promptly investigated.

"We have found," she said, last night, "that Trustee Hanson was correctly informed—the building fund allotment of more than $12,500,000, about one-fourth the amount contemplated for the entire budget, was 'approved' by the board Feb. 1. And how they did it over!"

"Our investigation shows the matter came up in a report submitted by Charles J. Forsberg, business manager of the board. This item of a mere $12,000,000 was sandwiched in with a list of comparatively unimportant expenditures contemplated."

Rapid Procedure.

"According to the stenographer who took the report of the meeting for us, this bit of business involving millions was referred to so rapidly that she was able to catch only this much: 'G41-23, fiscal year 1921.'"

The stenographer's report shows that as the item was read off, President Davis cut in with his familiar "Omibus"—which means it was passed without further ado.

"This, to my knowledge, was an unheard-of procedure in the annals of the Chicago board of education."

FIGHT FOR BONUS ON IN EARNEST, STARTING SOON

McCumber Optimistic as to Outlook.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.
Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—When the soldiers' bonus bill as agreed upon by the senate finance committee is formally reported Monday the fight for its prompt passage will be on in earnest.

With the tariff bill blocking immediate consideration of the long delayed measure, and anti-bonus senators eager to take advantage of this situation, the first problem of the senators who have the success of the bonus legislation at heart will be to clear the way for action.

How far the anti-bonus senators will go to block passage of the bill cannot be predicted, but in some quarters it is believed that the opposition will be inclined to be persistent.

McCumber Will Push It.
Senator McCumber [N. D.], chairman of the finance committee, is optimistic over the outlook, however. As soon as he submits the formal report on the bonus bill he will make an effort to obtain right of way for it over the tariff bill and seek to push it with all possible speed.

Senator McCumber stated tonight that he would hold a conference with anti-bonus leaders, such as Senator Borah [Idaho] and Senator Glass [Va.], in an effort to reach an understanding with them. He hopes to bring them into an agreement not to filibuster against the bonus.

Hopeful of Result.
If he can induce them to confine their opposition to what is termed "reasonable debate" in senatorial parlance, he believes he will be able to prevail upon the Republicans to join in a movement to lay aside the tariff long enough to pass the soldier relief measure so long overdue.

Despite Senator McCumber's optimism, it is stated in some Republican quarters that he will not have much success in his efforts to reach an agreement with the anti-bonus forces. The minority opposing the bonus is opposing it fervently and wholeheartedly and grasping just such situations as the one which now exists in the senate to push their fight against it.

His leaders are not likely to make an agreement with Senator McCumber when the mere withholding of such an agreement promises to be so helpful to their own ends, it is reported.

Democrats Give Him Chance.
Nevertheless, pro-bonus Democrats expressed willingness to give Senator McCumber a chance to reach the agreement he is seeking. They are willing to wait several days to give him time to confer with Senators Borah, Glass and others.

But if he fails to obtain such an agreement, and Republican leaders refuse to lay aside the tariff, the Democrats will begin making motions to take up the bonus. Such motions will be made whenever the parliamentary situation permits, according to Senator Simmons [N. C.], ranking Democratic member of the finance committee.

TWO STADIUM BIDS ARE BELOW $2,500,000 TO BE EXPENDED

Opening bids from contractors for erection of the $2,500,000 stadium, to be south of the new field museum, the south park board of commissioners found five of them to be close to the amount to be expended.

The bids were as follows: George A. Fuller company, $2,495,000; Paschen Bros., $2,478,000; Blome-Sinek, $2,348,000; and John Griffiths & Son, $2,560,000. Fifteen other concerns offered bids plumbing, lighting, etc.

Award of the contract will be made after all offers have been tabulated by the superintendent, J. L. Foster. They will be announced at the board's regular monthly meeting on June 21. If not sooner, and work will be started at once. Edward Kelly, recently elected to the board, sat at his first meeting, delivering a short talk.

DAUGHERTY GETS CHANCE TO TRY "WAR GRAFTERS"

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—Amid turbulent debate administration leaders in the house today landed what appeared to be a knock-out blow upon the Johnson-Woodruff resolution for a congressional investigation of Attorney General Daugherty's failure to punish war grafters.

The resolution refused, however, to stay knocked out. A few minutes after it had taken the count in the rules committee by a vote of 7 to 4 its supporters were on their feet ready for a new bout, which probably will be staged within the next day or two.

Reconsider Previous Action.
When the rules committee met today Representative Rodenberg [Ill.], Republican, made the motion to reconsider the action of May 3 by which it had ordered a favorable report on the Johnson-Woodruff resolution. Since that date Chairman Campbell [Kas.] has been carrying the resolution around in his pocket, fearing that if he reported it to the house it would be promptly adopted.

vote of 7 to 4. Chairman Campbell and Representative Schall [Minn.], who voted on May 3 in favor of the resolution, excused an absent face and cast their vote against it, along with Representatives Rodenberg, Fess [Ohio], Kreider [Pa.], Snell [N. Y.], and Dale [Vt.], all Republicans. Representative Johnson [S. D.], Republican, ex-service man, one of the authors of the resolution, joined with three Democrats, Representatives Poy [N. C.], Garrett [Tenn.], and Rordan [N. Y.], in opposing the motion.

Democrats Score Campbell.
Chairman Campbell then walked into the house and delivered a carefully prepared speech explaining the action, in which he charged that those who were demanding legislative action were helping the "war grafters" to escape punishment at Mr. Daugherty's hands. This precipitated an acrid debate, in which Representative Moore [Va.], Democrat, called Mr. Campbell "a Mr. Face-both-ways," and Representative Garrett, Democratic leader, accused the rules committee chairman of "turncoating" and "lacking intellectual integrity and courage."

FEEBLE MINDED DUE TO PARENTS' TOXIC STATE

Moline, Ill., June 1.—Nearly all accepted theories of feeble mindedness have been upset by Dr. J. E. W. Wallin, noted physiologist of Miami university, who declared that the toxic condition of parents before a child's birth, and not heredity is responsible for the major portion of feeble minded children. Dr. Wallin spoke at Augustana college of which he is an alumnus.

Dr. Wallin stated that the accepted theory on transmission of feeble mindedness is based on the study of insane people and others confined in state institutions, while his conclusions are entirely founded on the study of public school children. Twelve years' study he said, failed to show any clear cut evidence to support the heredity theory.

The final conclusion advanced by the scientist is that sterilization of feeble minded persons or prohibition of marriage are not preventives. He urged disinfection of parents by means of anti-toxins and serums.

"It is intended to provide $20,000,000 additional cash working capital from the sale of common stock."

Negotiations are pending, Mr. Chubb says, for the acquisition of other properties, but, irrespective of the outcome of these negotiations, Midvale, Republic, and Inland companies propose to proceed with these merger plans.

Financing will be handled by Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

Combined Ingot Capacity.
The combined annual ingot capacity of the three concerns is about 8,350,000. The entire total of the country is about 50,000,000, of which the United States Steel corporation has about 45 per cent. It was said by John A. Topping, chairman of the Republic Iron and Steel company, in testimony today before the Lockwood housing committee.

In placing on the record before the Lockwood committee today testimony showing that the United States Steel corporation was able to manufacture steel at from $3 to $5 a ton cheaper than the independent companies, because of its ownership of 1,000 miles of ore carrying railways and coal and iron ore mines and its superiority of access to these raw materials. Samuel Untermyer sought to prove through steel manufacturers that the independent companies existed solely "by the grace of the United States Steel corporation."

Has a Decided Advantage.

While John A. Topping, chairman of the board of the Republic Iron and Steel company, would not go so far as to admit the United States Steel corporation had the independent companies "by the throat," he said frankly that the steel corporation had "a very decided advantage" because of its $3 to $5 a ton differential.

"Under certain market conditions," the steel corporation has the independent "in the hollow of its hand," he admitted, but declared this was not true under other market conditions.

It was also brought out by Mr. Untermyer that, while the United States railroad labor board had ordered new regulations on railways which benefited the steel corporation in view of its ownership of roads, the recent order of the interstate commerce commission reducing freight rates did not apply to ore carrying roads, an exemption that also benefited the steel corporation.

Bucking Against Morgan.
In an attempt to show that great economies would have been effected by the recently proposed "seven company" merger, Mr. Untermyer sought to show that no merger proposition could have been discussed without the tacit or overt approval of the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., bankers of the steel corporation, and which, according to Mr. Untermyer, "practically managed and dominated" the steel corporation.

A. C. Dinkey, president of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company, admitted there would be "a lot of pleasant and useful occupations" than "to buck up against the United States Steel corporation with a merger that was not agreeable to J. P. Morgan & Co.," but he declared he was never told that the presence of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company in the proposed merger was not agreeable to Morgan and company, and that for this reason the Youngstown concern got out.

Beside Mr. Topping and Mr. Dinkey the other witnesses were Eugene C. Graco, president of the Bethlehem

Steel company and George Frahm, president of the Lackawanna Steel company. Mr. Graco and Mr. Frahm were examined on the Bethlehem-Lackawanna merger, completed recently, which upset the "seven company" plan.

Robert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, was expected as a witness, but he was not reached and will probably be called tomorrow.

A veiled intimation that injunction proceedings might be brought to restrain the proposed merger was made by Mr. Untermyer.

AMERICAN POLICY IN RUSSIA AND MEXICO.

Senator Borah has a resolution in the senate
for the recognition of the soviet government of Russia and is arguing for its adoption. He says that the present policy produces disorder and a continuation of it may bring ruin. He says he does not regret the Russian revolution any more than the French revolution, although he regrets that it had to be so cruel. He says that our charity saved 10,000,000 Russians but that our policy saved 30,000,000.

The American policy has been to build up
Russia without entering into debate, arrangements, or treaties with the soviet government further than was necessary to permit the relief work to go ahead. Great progress has been made with essentials and there is fear that the Geneva conference has been a temporary setback.

The Geneva conference almost instantly was thrown into a discussion of bolshevism, its theories, and its acts. Its theories and its acts were defended with religious fervor by the soviet representatives and it was all about as helplessly a barren argument. The bolsheviks will throw every practical consideration to the wind if the theories of their war on capitalism are attacked, and when the discussion gets in that corner it is worse than useless.

Russia will not be restored by Senator Borah's discussion of the revolution but may be by Secretary Hoover's relief workers. They are dealing with the essentials of life. They have carried starvation relief wherever they could. They are working to get seed corn to the Russian peasants.
They are trying to restore the Russian transport.
They are trying to exterminate plague.

The United States might recognize soviet Russia, whether that were folly or not, but that would not remedy conditions which put Russia where it is.
That would not make it safe for capitalism to promote the welfare of anti-capitalists. It would not prevent the confiscation of property and the repudiation of debts. It would not restore Russia to agricultural and economic competency.

The work the American government is doing in Russia, according to its practical policy of dealing with conditions and not with arguments, is intended for the recovery of Russia in fact. When that has been accomplished Russia will be back in the family of nations. It will not be restored by discussion of sovietism, repudiation of debts, horrors of capitalism, competency of the proletariat, or values of communism.

In addition to the demand that the American government recognize the soviet government of Russia there is pressure for the recognition of the Oreagan government of Mexico. Here again the American policy is sound. The United States does not demand of Mexico that it give rights and properties to Americans. It demands that it recognize validity of rights already given.

America says to the Mexican government that when it agrees that American properties acquired in legal form under the Mexican constitution, recently replaced by a new one, shall be respected,
then America can recognize the Mexican government. The United States does not say that Mexico shall not adopt a constitution preventing the foreign purchase and holding of lands, resources, and privileges. It says that Mexico shall not void
the title of American property acquired legally under then existing Mexican law and confiscate
what had been thus acquired.

When Mexico puts such an agreement in proper form and gives it validity outside of verbal promises, etc., the United States will be ready to treat
Mexico as a nation with a recognized government.
These two policies are sound and, we believe,
practical.

CAREY'S ERROR IN THE BUILDING TROUBLES.

The action of Thomas Carey, wealthy brick manufacturer, in assuming leadership in the adjustment of the building trade difficulties in Chicago is unique, to say the least. Mr. Carey attains this position by the simple process of providing security for the release of two union leaders accused of murder in connection with these difficulties. Having thus put himself on record in favor of these two men—Murphy and Maden—if not of their methods, he calls upon the citizenry to investigate the entire controversy.

Before any such investigation is informed of undertaken a few facts should be defined. The situation which Mr. Carey proposes to investigate is not at this time primarily a controversy between the unions and the contractors or between labor and the public. The point at which he assumed directorship proves it to be a question between criminal union leadership and the law. He rejects himself into the fight by hailing out two men with criminal records who are now accused of murdering two policemen. That should define his position and the scope of any inquiry which he qualifies to start.

Criminal union leadership is accused of attacking society and attempting to break down the law by murdering the servants and symbols of the law in the persons of policemen. That separates an immediate controversy from the subject of long graft, extortion, or similar improper activ-

ties on the part of labor and capital. The question of reasonable wages and working conditions or of possible conspiracy in the restriction of building or the use of building materials is only indirectly involved.

The question demanding immediate settlement, therefore, rests with the courts and the state's attorney's office. What the public requires is immediate trials and convictions of the men responsible for murders and bombings and sluggings.
Mr. Carey and his proposed inquiry have no proper part in that.

The questions which he seeks to settle have already been investigated at length by the Daley commission, by Judge Landis, and by the citizens committee. Mr. Carey, being an employer of labor in the manufacture of building materials, a widely professed friend of unionism, and a politician of some experience, is clouding the issue by his proposal. His purposes may be pure. It is probable that they are influenced by his interests.
But in any event he is tending to divert attention from the heart of the trouble instead of concentrating attention at the vital point.

BONDS FOR BRIDGES.

In Monday's judicial election two bond issues will be submitted to the voters. One is for $2,400, 000 for bridges and viaducts. The other is for $2,000,000 for extension of the electric lighting system. The Roosevelt road viaduct and bridge in its present condition is an outrage upon the community which should be eyed. The Madison street bridge with its uncompleted structural steel work sticking up in the air is a declaration of municipal incompetence. Alteration of the Adams street bridge is required if the Union station project is not to be delayed.

The Madison street bridge and the Roosevelt road viaduct and bridge show up the city government, but as exhibits of how the municipal government can make a mess of important city enterprises they have served their purpose. What the city needs is that they should now serve as thoroughfares.

No doubt, as the Civic federation says in a protest against the bridge bonds, the city administration ought to have built and completed the bridges without recourse to this bond issue. It ought to have done so, but it hasn't. Furthermore, the chances are that it will not. There is a limit to the punishment the city can take in trying to correct city hall financing.

The great thing is to get the bridges. Money has been diverted and money will be diverted, but bridges must be had. The voter is privileged to swear as he votes yes and to make a note of it, but if these two important thoroughfares are to be put in working order the money will have to be provided. The Civic federation says that the city can take the money from other revenue. It might, but it won't.

There is no doubt, regarding the street lighting bonds, that it would be economy to extend the electric light system. The upkeep of the other lamps is wasteful. There is doubt as to how the city would use the money in extending the system, but it is believed to be worth while taking the chance.

This city is nearly always taking a chance to get anything. In the case of the bridges it seems forced to do so, and the voter can get as mad about it as he cares to.

HERE IS VENUSBERG.

A Chicagoan visiting in foreign parts returns to report that wherever she mentioned the fact that this was her home she became at once the center of interest. Chicago—how romantic! There is a general impression in Europe and Asia, caused by several distinguished artists, that Lake Michigan is bathed in golden moonlight and that it and the song of the lark arising above the murmur of our wave lapped shores make this fair place
the home of Venus.

White swans swim in the blue Chicago river and pensive gondolas follow them. Bluebirds nest in the Michigan avenue bridge and the Wisconsin tower is full of cuckoos. Roses are always in bloom, and the beauty and chivalry paddle through the white and yellow water lilies ginging of their loves.

This is regarded in many foreign parts as a delectable city of romance where fair ladies on marble balconies throw posies to passing gallants and to some who do not pass. Our proletariat may be hard and our bourgeoisie inert to all but pork chops, but our aristocracy is there. It has made what we have called a hick town the purple dream city of the old world.

What delicious madnes sweetly rides the east wind from the lake and flings the stockyards to perfume such ecstasies?

THE TOUGH BIRD OF THE SENATE.

Senator Watson of Georgia is a tough guy and he doesn't care who knows it. He is a bad, rough customer, a hard egg, and he can and will lick any other senator or any two senators and he does not care when or where he does it. Senator Luttrell can step outside and get his nose punched or he can remain where he is and get it punched.
Senator Phillips can have a sock wherever he wants it—on the capitol steps, in the cloakroom, or at his desk.

Legislative bodies frequently find these tough guys in their membership. Sometimes they cause merely excitement and amusement and sometimes as desirable in the United States senate that there should be fights on the premises. It might be recommended that the senate take Mr. Watson in hand and remind him that it exercises control over its membership. Speedy treatment of that member might save a great deal of trouble. The senators will indulge a bully until they regret it.

Editorial of the Day

WAR FRAUDS.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

The country is pretty well surfeited with ac-cusions and back-packing in connection with supposed war frauds. Congressmen charge Attorney General Daugherty with failure to bring those responsible for the frauds to trial; Daugherty says he has done as much as congress has been willing to finance, and anyway, the cases were inherited from the previous administration, members of which had reasons for covering them up.

If there have been frauds the only thing the public is interested in now is the prosecution of those responsible for them. Alibis restore nothing to the defeated treasury.

Attorney General Daugherty has been in office more than fourteen months. That would seem to be ample time for him to tag a few grafters if they are as plentiful and as obviously guilty as some at Washington think they are. More action and fewer alibis would strike the public favorably.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the guys fall where they may.

LULLABY.

The sandman's coming o'er the sea:
Hush, my baby, hush.
He's searching round for you and me:
Hush, my baby, hush.
He's scattering dreams from left to right,
And closes eyelids for the night.
Hush, my baby, hush.

Ah! now he's standing at the gate,
Hush, my baby, hush.
He mustn't catch you wide awake:
Hush, my baby, hush.
He'll scatter dream and in your eye,
While mother sings sweet lullabies:
Hush, my baby, hush.

He's gone away, now don't you peep:
Hush, my baby, hush.
Ah, now my little one's asleep:
Hush, my baby, hush.
Sweet dreams and pleasant night,
Till morning brings the sunshine bright:
Hush, my baby, hush.

ON, RUSH THIS ANIMAL ALONG! YANKEE NEEDS A VACATION.

R. H. L. May I not call yer attention to an animal called the Hallelujah, which the Eskimos discovered up here, which lives among the iceberg?
In appearance he closely resembles the Hallelujah, from the River of Doubt region. The Hallelujah, if put in yer office wood be a wonderful improvement over Yankee. You don't have to wait for him pounce, pounce, pounce, etc., to come in in order to feed him. Just give him the address of an officer and the Hallelujah runs to the feller's home, drinks the lak an' eats the pencils an' stationery. Then after looking around to make sure there's no tipster he returns to yer. If he finds a tipster he swallows it whole. He has no expense in keep. Just let him sit on a cake of ice when there ain't nothing doing so he won't get homesick, and keep Yankee out of his way. Shall I ship him?
SNOWBLOWS AL.

PRESIDENT HARDING has given us a new word.
In his address on Memorial day the president said in speaking of Lincoln: "No rugged figure has been more monumental." And, although the President didn't say so, hardly any great American, no matter how humble his origin, has been more log-cabin than Lincoln, or more popular. What great possibilities lie in Gamaliel's new lexicon!
What governor of a sovereign state of this great republic has been more tried than Gov. Len?

And, in general, who has been more candidated than William Jennings Bryan? Who has been more talented than Kaiser Bill? Who has been more first-paged than Mathilde? Who has been more mistreated at the altar than Mary Baker?

OR, WHAT AN ABSURD IDEAL!
(From the Washington, Penn., Daily Reporter.)
In Detroit five men blew a safe and escaped with $11,000. Robbery is thought to have been the motive.

AND THIS IS SIMPLY BOLD BELIEF.
R. H. L. Babson says in his W. K. Sellers Bulletin
M-271: "The there will be exceptions, clients will find their best markets for agricultural and dairying equipment and supplies, during the next few months, in those states where agricultural diversification is greatest and where dairying is most extensive."

marriage to Douglas was legal. And eminently respectable. Doggone it, next thing Mary and Doug

LIMBO.

There's a land filled with grotesque obsessions,
Of people who jitter and rave,
Grotesque are all thoughts and expressions;
And every one sits on a grave.

'Tis a land of delirium tremens,
Enshrouded in fog banks of sin;
'Tis a land filled with goblins and demons—
'Tis the land of synthetic pin.

ABSURDITY.

THERE ARE MORE OF THE SMITHS, BUT A NUTCRACKER NEVER DIES OR SURRENDERS.

Dear R. H. L.: The Trib has this community absolutely demoralized. Folks here have the idea that it is an endurance race between "An Hair at Large" and Uncle Elm's lawsuit. They are betting money on the proposition now, the odds favoring Jawn somewhat, as it is known that he has a son who may carry on the story after Jawn has passed on. Will you please tell me whether or not Sid Smith is married and has any children who may take up the Gump case after he is gone? I will know better how to place my money. Can you give me any information as to the liability of either of these continued stories closing during this presidential administration? Many people around here are getting along towards middle age
and want some reasonable assurances that Uncle Elm's lawsuit and the "Hair at Large" will conclude during their lifetime. PHIL R. WILMARTH.

ENGLAND'S SUN WAS SLOWLY SETTING.
Dear R. H. L.: The evening of Decoration day in the cafeteria, two flappers were at supper. One evidently had been to the cemetery and was telling of it. "Wintergreen or evergreen and some sort of a plant called myrtle." And P. "Well, if I ever do die I don't want anything but green
on my grave."

caption this ought to make the Line easily.)

Joseph C. Lincoln's New Serial and 50 other stories and striking features

FAIR HARBOR is the best of those quaint Cape Cod stories that have made the creator of Cap'n Eri, Shavin's, and Galusha the Magnificent known as America's best-loved author.

Full of the tang and the twang of the New England coast, which Mr. Lincoln knows so well, it tells with rare humor and romance the stormy adventures of a two-fisted sea captain with a job ashore.

Fair Harbor begins in the big June Home Journal—out to-day—and will appear in six generous installments. Don't miss it.

Read also Surf, a romantic tale of John Paul Jones, by Stephen Moorhouse Avery, with vigorous full-color illustrations by Wyeth; The Torch, a story of two sisters, by Hugh McNair Kahler; and stories by Grace Richmond, Louis Dodge, Francis Noyes Hart, Sarah Addington and others.

The Mystery of Women's Clubs

Mary Austin, then whom no one is closer to the cultural life of American Women, writes of our 2,000,000-membered women's clubs: "Is there not a weakness in an organization of intelligent women when it remains so much a mystery to intelligent men? . . . A turning point is near in club history . . . or they will become a sort of intellectual cory corner." With kindly criticism she presents a plan for broadening the field of women's clubs.

Woman's Unseen Hand

Plays a Big Part in National Politics. Is your congressman's wife in society? Does she write back home of teas and dinners and dances at the Washington homes of the great and the near-great? With election coming on, these are pertinent questions for the woman voter—it is said that many a law is put across over a cup of tea. Under the title of The Social Lobby, Charles A. Selden tells a remarkable story of society's flattering influence.

Women Cigarette Fiends

Two Cigarettes a Day for every man, woman and child in America—that is the nation's consumption since women have learned to smoke! In the big cities you see women smoking everywhere—in hotels, theatres, restaurants, at home, on the street; there are special smoking rooms for girls in exclusive schools. Yet most women don't like it and leading doctors say smoking is injuring their health. Why do women smoke? Let Harry Burke tell you!

The Perfect Child

Katherine was a perfect child—perfect in manners, in study, in play. Yet one day she ran amuck and ruined a whole house. Why? What was wrong with her training? Miriam Finn Scott tells you—the child mind has no secrets from her; nor has the child body any secrets from Dr. S. Josephine Baker. Both these experts write exclusively for The Home Journal, and every month they are answering the problems of millions of parents.

Summer Styles from Paris

Organdies, Laces, Gingham—reds and blacks and whites—what should you wear for a summer at home or on vacation days? The June JOURNAL tells you, with sensible styles from Paris and New York—news of the ready-made shops, patterns for making at home, sewing lessons for the beginner, directions for making your hats. And fascinating needlework ideas for daylight-saving afternoons on the porch.

M. J.'S "O. K." IT AIN'T WHAT IT USED TO BE, EH?

Expert Lynch Snagged on
New $12,300.

City Building Expert Austin J. Lynch, with eleven bills at nearly $12,300, is now attempting to collect $12,300 more from the city treasury. He has already collected for his services on several improvements the following:

Amount:
City Building	$48,460.00
Public Works	$40,795.00
Public Works	$5,568.04
Public Works	$5,374.14
Total	$104,197.18

It looks like Mr. Lynch and Mr. Faherty want to get council approval of the alleged contract by which Lynch and other experts obtain millions from the public treasury, commented Ald. Schwartz of the subcommittee on experts.

Some of his bills are for work done in three months this year and are at the rate of $50 a day. There is no appropriation for such an allowance this year. We appropriated $100 a day and Faherty has not appointed Lynch as an expert under that appropriation. It looks like Lynch preferred to collect $50 instead of $100 a day and there is an approval of his supposed contract of 1920. Rather a bold request, isn't it?

AM. Schwartz and Guernsey referred the new Lynch bill to Attorney Louis E. Hart and Lawrence A. Cohen. They wrote an opinion in which they advised that "these bills be returned to Mr. Lynch, with a request that he notify your committee in writing of to what basis he used in arriving at the compensation of $50 a day."

No Provision Made.

The opinion continues: "No provision is made in the 1921 budget for hiring building experts at $50 a day. If Mr. Lynch is making his bill on the basis of $50 a day in reliance upon the resolution of the city council dated Feb. 1, 1920, we think that he should be notified promptly that we do not recognize any contract which he claims to be existing between himself and the president of the board of local improvements. We fear that it may be claimed by Mr. Lynch that payment to him upon this basis is a ratification of the alleged contract."

The Tribune has suits pending to compel the repayment of the $54,000 already paid Lynch, and the amounts paid other experts.

Ford's Neighbors Boom Him as Candidate for President

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—[Special].—A "Ford for President" club was organized recently in Dearborn, Mich., the home town of Henry Ford. Temporary officers were elected who, within a few days, will call upon the manufacturer and urge him to become a candidate and announce his decision to the world.

There are those "in the know" both present and former political friends of Mr. Ford—who undoubtedly will tell you that at no time within the last five or six years has he been without aspirations to the high office. In fact, the rumor is current that the recent village meeting of neighbors and fellow townsmen was the inspiration of Mr. Ford himself.

Dr. E. F. Fisher, chosen as temporary chairman, and who was chief organizer, has for a number of years been on the Ford pay rolls as chief physician at the Ford tractor plant.

It is probable that whatever action is taken by Mr. Ford will depend on what the country thinks about it. The meeting was well announced and well advertised and newspaper clippings will be eagerly and carefully weighed.

Since the meeting the committee has announced that a "Ford for President" club will be formed in every congressional district in the country and that enough names will be secured to insure his name being placed on the ticket.

Now with southern Democrats swinging to Ford in connection with the Muscle Shoals deal, and with Ford angling for the farmers' bloc, the present plans of the Dearborn committee contemplate an independent movement, hoping Ford may prove the connecting link between the farmer vote and the labor vote of the cities.

with the southern vote another source of support.

Indorsement of the Ford movement say that should Ford be elected to the presidency it would be without the expenditure of a cent by himself, and with no promises made. They also assert that the only obstacle would be the antagonism of the Republican and Democratic machines.

ANTI-LAFOLLETTE PARTY GIRDS FOR WISCONSIN FIGHT

Milwaukee, Wis., June 1.—[Special].—William J. Morgan, present attorney general, was nominated late today to make this race for governor on the Republican ticket, in opposition to the La Follette-Blaug nonpartisan league nominee.

The war record of Senator La Follette is denounced and the resolution of the legislature condemning him during the war approved in one plank of the platform submitted to the Republican state conference by the resolutions committee.

One resolution, unanimously adopted, says the biggest issue in Wisconsin is to "efface and forever erase the shame and disgrace attached to this state through the disloyalty of La Follette."

"He was not true to his country in the time of need and peril; he failed to act when patriotic action was imperative, and by his public utterances and open opposition to participation in the world war he has shown himself unfit to represent the state."

WOMEN CROWD COURT TO HEAR VALENTINO PLEA

5, 1918, in Hollywood. Some one named Meyers performed the ceremony.

"Has that marriage ever been voided?"

"No, sir."

There was no cross-examination. The witness sat at the counsel table, in line with Valentino. They smiled at each other and some time later, during the five minute recess, Valentino strolled over and talked and laughed with her for some few seconds, with much flashing of very white teeth.

It was William Clay Silver, owner of a newspaper in Calexico, across from Mexicali, who produced most of the laughs.

Mexican Marriage Described.

"I had a tip they were going to be married," he said, "so I went over to the mayor's house and waited. Valentino, Miss Hudnut, Mr. Gerrard, and Dr. Florella Mansfield White, the chaplain of the party, drove up in a car."

Valentino was surprised. He said he had wanted to keep the marriage secret as long as possible, as it might hurt him in the moving picture game, but now that it was bound to come out, all right, but he wanted it told truthfully, as people were otherwise apt to get a false impression.

"Everything honest, open, and above board," he said.

"The mayor got an eight piece orchestra and the government band, and we had plenty of music. The mayor also had his ice box filled with a considerable amount of champagne. Valentino had a drink or two, but I don't think Miss Hudnut had anything. She seemed scared, a stranger in a strange land. She asked me if the marriage would be legal. I said, 'O, yes.'"

Miss Hudnut Was Worried.

"Do you think Mr. Valentino is violating the laws of California in marrying here before the year is up?" she asked me. I told her if I thought he was I would be the first one to arrest him after he crossed the American border. I am a deputy sheriff. I told her lots of people got married down there before they got their final decrees, or any decrees.

"We had two or three little drinks of champagne and I remarked then I wouldn't care even if President Harding came down here and married a Cocah Indian it would be legal."

"We had the wedding dinner about 8 o'clock, two hours or so after the wedding. The orchestra and the government band were making plenty music and all the women folks in the neighborhood came in with flowers for the bride—wild flowers, big bunches of them, pretty. Valentino made a speech. There were speeches in two languages. The governor of the state sent word he was sorry he couldn't be present. Photographs were taken by a movie man and two other photographers."

Escorted to U. S. by Mexican Mayor.

Silver's wife testified that the bride party was escorted into the United States by the mayor of Mexicali, and then Mrs. Ramalida Lugo, Indian, was called to the witness chair. Her daughter, Lillian, followed her. A big woman in black, tight fitting clothes, with a great flare of crimson in her black hat, Mrs. Lugo sat, ponderous.

OSAGE RUB

immovable, stoical, waiting some twenty or thirty seconds before she answered questions, speaking in quite good English.

She rented the cottages at Palm Springs, made up the beds, cleaned, did general work. Valentino and his wife, she said, occupied "one of the Hicks" cottages with a Mr. Paul Ivanovich. They stayed there two or three days. Valentino had two dogs, and his automobile. Mrs. Lugo got around the cottages between 9 and 10 in the morning, left about 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Q—Did you see Mr. Valentino and his wife there in the cottage in the morning? A—Yes.

Q—How were they clothed? A—They had breakfast pajamas on.

Q—How many beds in that cottage?

A—Two.

Q—Do you know which bed Ivanovich occupied? A—In the west room.

Q—Ever see the woman in either of those bedrooms? A—I saw her toilet set in the east room.

Q—Everybody was usually up, in those cottages, when you got there? A—Yes. Gilbert on cross-examination.

Q—Hot there? A—Yes.

Q—These pajamas were silk dressing clothes, weren't they? A—Yes.

Q—Was there a couch in the living room? A—Yes.

Q—Somebody evidently slept there every night? A—Yes.

Q—So, then, there were actually three bedrooms? And there was a porch with a bed on it? A—Yes.

Q—That makes four bedrooms, eh?

A—I never had anything to do with the bed on the porch; just the inside, two bedrooms and a living room.

Q—What was on this bed on the porch? Costello asked on redirect. "Just steamer rugs," she said.

Dogs Kept Him Awake.

Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock. During the afternoon session, which was brief, Carroll Lynch, who "rents houses, is a deputy sheriff, and a few other things," told of seeing the bride couple in an auto, going for a bite of breakfast. They wore purple pajamas. He knew they spent three nights in Palm Springs because Valentino's dogs kept him awake three nights.

Mrs. Alva Hicks and Mrs. Marie Nugent testified to seeing the star in and near the Hicks cottage, and court adjourned until tomorrow.

THE STANDARD OF THE WORLD

EIGHT years ago Cadillac introduced America's first successful eight-cylinder automobile power plant, the V-Type Cadillac Engine.

Each succeeding year has seen a further development and refinement of that engine determined by the previous performance of thousands of Cadillacs over millions of miles.

Each year has seen the current type of Cadillac engine tested against the field; each year has seen its supremacy maintained. Only a ceaseless improvement has enabled it to hold its position of recognized leadership.

Today the Cadillac engine is the expression, not of a single conception, but of the combined effort of thousands of men filtered through the best engineering brains the world affords.

It is the result of unremitting research and experiment; of searching scrutiny of innovations; of elimination, rejection, and final selection after long comparative test.

Not one man, nor one year, could have brought forth an engine styled by experts, as is the Cadillac "Standard of the World."

Remember its Imported Java Wrapper

What do you ask for —and what are you getting?

Do you—like many motorists—say, "Give me a quart of oil"—and accept anything that's offered? Then here's what you get:

Frequently—a cheap, inferior grade of oil. Sometimes—a lifeless mixture of "reclaimed" oils drained from crankcases. Often—ordinary oil that's unsuited for your particular engine.

You can't drive your engine on poor oil or even good oil of improper type without paying the penalty. You should use a high quality oil that meets the lubricating demands of your engine—and meets them exactly.

Buying just "oil" won't do. The safe, and certain way is to demand SUNOCO Motor Oil—the new scientific engine lubricant.

Don't think of SUNOCO as ordinary motor oil. Patented processes of super-refining and distillation make it fundamentally different from and vastly superior to ordinary oil.

That's why SUNOCO eliminates carbon troubles and gives such wonderful results in power and economy. Try it at once. Look for a dealer who displays the SUNOCO sign or write or phone us for the name of the SUNOCO dealer near you.

in 1917, to Be Restored

TOKIO, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Hsu Shih Chang of China has resigned, and Gen. Li Yuan Hung, who became president following the death of Yuan Shih Kai in 1916 and was deposed by military forces in 1917, has been restored to office, according to official notices from Peking.

Old Parliament Meets.
PEKING, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Hsu Shih Chang resigned today.

The old Republican parliament of China, which has the backing of Gen. Wu Pei Fu, recent victor over Chang Tso Lin, convened at Tientsin today for the first time since it was dissolved in 1917 and adopted a program aimed at the unification of China.

Overtures have been made to Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the Canton government, to join the movement for a united China. It has been pointed out to Dr. Sun that with the elimination from the presidency of Hsu Shih Chang, whose tenure of office Sun has maintained was illegal, there is no further obstacle to cooperation between the north and the south.

Fighting Breaks Out.
TIEN-TSIN, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fighting between the forces of Wu Pei Fu and Chang Tso Lin broke out again this afternoon along the line of the Chinese Eastern railway near Houfengtai station, province of Chihli. Houfengtai is between the towns of Changli and Anshan.

RUSSIA SCHEMES TO GREASE HAGUE PARLEY WITH OIL

BERLIN, June 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Leonide Krassin and Maxim Litvinoff will probably be the chief Russian delegates to The Hague conference, with a third soviet plenipotentiary representing Georgia, which with Azerbaijan is the great oil center of southwestern Russia.

This shows the importance the bolsheviks will attach to concessions, chiefly oil, in their efforts at The Hague to obtain direct credits in exchange for the privilege of exploiting the rich natural resources of the country they control.

Men claiming to represent Georgia and Azerbaijan vainly protested at the Genoa conference against the military occupation of their republics by the soviet armies and issued a warning that any concessions made by the soviets would never be recognized by the "true governments" of those countries, which have already been recognized by the European powers as independent states.

Some of the bolshevik Genoa delegates apprehend difficulties in attaining results at The Hague, believing the powers will ask the soviets to renounce too much of their communistic doctrine, to which they must adhere even if it cannot be worked out in practice.

Americans who have arrived recently from Russia, where they closely followed the work of the American relief administration, have informed the correspondent that the American aid has had the effect of increasing the soviet influence among the people, because the bolsheviks have been able to claim considerable credit for the help extended in the famine areas.

The same Americans, however, are convinced that the assistance should be unhesitatingly continued. Eleven million people, they say, have been saved from starvation, and incidentally, great masses of the Russian people have been inculcated with a feeling of good will toward America.

France May Stay Away.

PARIS, June 1.—Premier Poincare gave the chamber of deputies a clear impression this afternoon that France will not attend The Hague conference unless the United States takes part.

"What the soviets demand above all is money," said M. Poincare. "They want large credits. Only the United States is able to give them large credits, but the United States has declined to attend the conference. To try to reconstruct Europe without the United States is like trying to square a circle."

REV. WILLIAMSON TRANSLATOR FOR POLICE, IT SEEMS

Inner workings of the Rev. Williamson's two man office were exposed yesterday when Ald. Arthur F. Albert turned over to the $10,000 law enforcer names and addresses of alleged "bull holes" in the Twenty-second ward.

"I asked the enforcer to investigate," Ald. Albert said. "He wanted me to put charges in writing. This I did in one specific case. Then I insisted on knowing how the enforcer would proceed. He told me he would ask the police department to investigate and that he would give me a copy of the report."

Ald. Albert asserted that "in admitting that the police department must do the investigating for the enforcer, he admits that his labors are merely an unnecessary duplication of work."

Steel Man Says Business Better Without "Plus" Plan

E. A. Curtis, president of the St. Louis Structural Steel company, testified yesterday before Examiner John C. Bennett of the federal trade commission that his business had increased 20 per cent within the last few months as a direct result of the elimination of the "Pittsburgh plus" charge from his product.

2 BANDITS SLAIN,

2 MEN WOUNDED,

IN POSSE FIGHT

Flint, Mich., June 1.—Two unidentified men were shot and killed today and two others captured after a three-day posse had pursued them through three counties, following the robbery of the Matamoros State bank at Matamoros, near here. The $46,000 taken from the bank by the quartet was recovered.

One of the possemen, William Buckler, a railroad detective here, was wounded in the gun fight between the bandits and their pursuers, in which nearly 1,000 shots were exchanged. His condition was said tonight to be critical.

The bodies of the two dead bandits were taken to Lapeer, where they were taken to the morgue. One of whom was wounded in the hip, are in jail.

The men in custody gave their names as Jerry Skopency of Detroit and Mike Kolok of Flint.

Kolok, who surrendered after being wounded, told officers he was held up in Detroit early today by the other three men and forced to drive them to Matamoros in his automobile.

The war corresponds of the over from the coup d'etat of Nov. 1.

When I saw they had cast the world's most beautiful woman as an infidel I thought they attempted to fill a large order. For Miss MacDonald doesn't look like an infidel; from what I've heard of her, she doesn't talk like an infidel, and it didn't seem to me she was going to be able to act like one. But, as is so often the case, I was completely wrong. An infidel, with a reason for being one, the lady fills the bill completely.

Her father, you see, had been a minister, whose unreasoning jealousy of her mother had led to that mother's fleeing from home and him with her little daughter. The child had been taught to despise the ministry.

She grows up and becomes an actress. The show she is with is broken up in a jerkwater town through the zealous efforts of church people and the members of the company are stranded.

Lola Dainty, at a moment when she doesn't know where her next meal is coming from, is approached by a stranger who persuades her to assist him in a scheme to secure the copra on a certain lake, once heathen, has been conquered by the gentle ministrations of a minister and his loyal band of followers. Miss Dainty is told that the minister is merely a fake and that he is endeavoring to land the fortune of a young man on the island who owns the copra. Will Miss Dainty aid him in the scheme?

Miss Dainty decidedly WILL! The plot gets quite thick. Wireless stations, government destroyers, death dances, fires and storms as well as all vivid parts in the unfolding of a romance that is all but shattered by the evildeeds of the piece, but saved in time and brought to a beautiful fulfillment by the minister, who finally convinces the lovely infidel that faith is a pretty good thing, after all.

Miss MacDonald delights from beginning to end of the picture. Mr. Ellis? Well, if you ask me, I think he's GREAT. No other no mannerisms—just an awfully good looking chap who goes about his business in a perfectly natural manner. I love his smile, and when he frowns—DEARIE! "The Infidel" is well produced and, in the main, well acted. It isn't a probable sort of story, but the events in it COULD happen, and if you like "thrillers" we recommend it to your attention.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK
BY JANE EDDINGTON.
Simplest Strawberry Mousse.
The pretty possibilities in the following recipe suggests its reprinting or giving it an anniversary.

One-third cup of sieved strawberries, measured after washing them, one-half cup of sugar cooked with one-third cup of water to 238 degrees, and poured over one egg white, which has been beaten stiff with a pinch of salt and a scant teaspoon of lemon juice, and finally six tablespoons of a little more of cream whipped.

The sugar and water and egg white make what is an ordinary cooked icing or marshmallow icing, it whipped till cool. When the icing is tepid, add the strawberry puree slowly, whipping it in. This might now be used for a pink icing. Next fold in the whipped cream, pack in molds, cover with stiff writing paper well buttered, put on a tight cover, pack in half ice and half salt, and leave for two hours.

If we choose to serve a mousse in parfait glasses it will go twice as far as an ordinary service.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALICO.

Wash Ties for All Tastes.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Keeping cool in the hot weather is not entirely accomplished by substituting light weight suits for heavy ones or by rolling up one's sleeves and slipping cooling drinks. Every one has experienced the satisfying feeling that clean clothes and a change of clothes makes. One really seems to be less warm, and looks so to others. That is why so many men find wash ties in the summer a pleasing diversion from the cravats that go with their heavier suits.

Wash cravats come in such attractive patterns and such a range of colors that every man should be able to find his own particular tastes satisfied. As may be seen from the drawing, they are made the same width as regular cravats, with open ends. They are not lined, the materials folded inside giving the necessary firmness. Materials used are silk and cotton fabrics, mercerized goods, oxfords, cotton grenadines, imported French percale. The patterns are usually small and neat—squares, rectangles, etc., either woven or embroidered.

An extremely smart tie is the French print. It is worn by most meticulous dressers with their hot weather suits. It is also an effective wash tie. It is used in summer cravats.

Hike for Saturday.

The Prairie club walk for Saturday, June 3, will be from Braeside to Hubbard Woods. The club will leave the Chicago and Northwestern station at 12:30 p. m. Expense, 60 cents.

DAILY HOROSCOPE

Doris Blake Says!

TODAY IS A LUCKY DAY ALL ROUND.

The two most beneficent planets in their action on mankind, Jupiter and Venus are in good disposition today, and profit from both artistic and rustic pursuits is indicated by their being in square aspect, a good day to court, marry and ask and grant favors. Those whose birth day it is are not promised the most successful year ahead unless every effort is strained to attain it. Those in employ must be careful. You are ingenious and clever, diplomatic, fairly religious, home-loving and should make a great success of life. You are inclined to be a little hypocritical; preaching one thing and practicing the opposite and you cover up noble instincts which are not always accredited to you. A child born today may be restless, unsettled, unless care in training eliminates these faults.

That's a Sure Sign.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think it possible for a girl to love a man when she thinks of him continually?"

That is one of the surest symptoms. Anonymous.

Took the Hint.

I work for a large steel concern which has offices on the second floor. People coming in usually leave the downstairs door open, causing it to slam.

One Saturday, while the boss was out, a man from out of town came in and was asked to wait until the boss came back. He sat in the outer office. Just then the door slammed.

Not thinking he had been the last person in the office, I remarked angrily: "The next time anybody comes up here and leaves the downstairs door open I'll make them go down and close it, even if it's the president of this company."

The man waiting got up, walked down the stairs and closed the door, coming up again with the boss, who had just entered.

The incident was later introduced as the president of the firm. H. V. P.

The Woman He Forgot

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.

Lucien, beautiful and young, although the mother of a sixteen year old son, was a woman years older than he. Her real name was Ellen, but she had been married when extremely young to Lucien Thorne, whom she loved, although he was blind. Lucien was tricked by Lady Helen, who loved him, and who had a child he cast her out of his house. Shortly after she and the child were in a railway accident and she allowed her husband and friends to believe they had been killed.

When she reaches England Nora meets her husband, who is no longer blind, and her son, Fanny Flus. Lucien does not recognize her. He and Bill are

MCCORMICKS TO FIX MATHILDE'S FATE IN PRIVATE

So Indicated After Long Conference.

Indications yesterday were that Harold F. McCormick and his former wife, Edith Rockefeller McCormick, have elected to drop their Probate court contest over the prospective marriage of their daughter Mathilde and Max Oser in order to settle the question by compromise unattended by publicity.

Instead of a filing of petitions in court which had been expected yesterday, nothing more exciting developed than a conference of Attorney Charles S. Cutting, representing Mrs. McCormick, and Attorney Edwin H. Cassels, counsel for her former husband.

Nothing to Say.

This conference followed a visit by Mrs. McCormick to Mr. Cutting of more than an hour. After the conference both lawyers had "simply nothing to say."

Whether a further hearing which has been scheduled in the Probate court for tomorrow morning will be had, neither side would state.

The lawyer was asked concerning reports that Max Oser has been the "Prince Charming" in more than one romance with youthful American society girls. He was told that he had been credited with making a statement to that effect.

"I made no such statement," he said; "but I will say that information has come to me. I cannot at this time talk of it."

Max Still Hopeful.

Mr. Cutting was to have filed yesterday an amplification of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick's reasons for objecting to the marriage of Mathilde and Max Oser.

Press dispatches from Zurich, Switzerland, the home of Max Oser, stated that he declared the marriage will take place despite any objections his fiancée's mother might make.

Information from Switzerland also was to the effect that the Swiss law requires that girls under 20 years of age, whether native or of foreign nationality, must have the consent of both parents before they may be married there.

WIFE ASSERTS THRANE STAGED PAJAMA PARTIES

Unconventional parties staged in the apartment of Victor Thrane, millionaire lumberman, clubman, and art patron, while his wife was "in the country" are the basis for a suit for divorce, the amended bill of which was filed yesterday before Hugo M. Friend in the Circuit court.

With the amended bill, which was filed by Attorney John D. Black, representing Mrs. Thrane, is a motion for temporary alimony of $1,000 a month and attorney's fees amounting to $25,000.

Mrs. Thrane tells of unconventional parties staged during the summers of 1914, 1915, and 1916 while she was in the country. A mysterious Ethel and two sisters, all unknown to Mrs. Thrane, are named as the guests of Thrane.

"Ethel," the bill sets up, was a visitor at the Thrane apartment almost every week between June and September of 1914. During the summer of 1915 the two sisters were seen dancing around the front room of the apartment with Thrane, dressed only in their nightclothes.

"I don't know who she is," said the wife, "but she was a visitor at the Thrane apartment almost every week between June and September of 1914. During the summer of 1915 the two sisters were seen dancing around the front room of the apartment with Thrane, dressed only in their nightclothes."

Hogs went tobogganing again yesterday, the top and average prices landing at the lowest level in a month. Best underweights sold at $10.30, and the average dropped 15c to $10.20. The market opened decidedly weak, but closed comparatively strong, with only 7,000 of the 20,000 in the pens left over. Late shipping orders helped the trade. General average a year ago at $7.75 was lowest during June, 1921. Yesterday's cattle trade ruled steady to 15c higher, with competition lively between local and outside buyers. Five loads of 1,405 lb Nebraska steers sold to Swift for shipment east at $9.20. Armour paid $9.15 for 788 lb steers and heifers. Good butcher stock ruled steady and undesirable cows and canners were weak. Calves strong to 25c higher, and feeding steers steady. Lambs slumped another 25c on yesterday's market and were 75c@1.00 under the previous Thursday's level, with top aborn lambs at $12.85 standing 50c below a week ago. California springers changed hands at $14.00@14.50 for the top end and $11.00@11.50 for seconds to feeders. Best yearlings reached $10.50, 2 year olds $9.00, and ewes $7.00. Dated May 1st, 1922

Principal and semi-annual interest (May 1st and November 1st) payable in New York City in gold in New York funds, without deduction for any present or future Canadian taxes (Dominion or Provincial). Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500. Redeemable in whole or in part at the option of the company on any interest date upon thirty (30) days' published notice at 105 and accrued interest.

QUEBEC SAVINGS AND TRUST CO., Trésorier, Montreal, Canada.

Mr. William Lyall, president of P. Lyall & Sons Construction Co., Ltd., which guarantees these bonds, summarizes in his letter as follows:

Security: These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage of all the right, title and interest of the TRANSPORTATION BUILDING CO., LTD., as lessee of the ninety-nine year leasehold of the land and building known as the Transportation Building, located in the heart of the financial district, the permanency of which is assured, of Montreal, Canada, a city having a population of about 800,000.

Sinking Fund: An annual sinking fund will be created beginning May 1st, 1923, sufficient to retire by purchase or call all bonds at or before maturity.

Management: The president of the TRANSPORTATION BUILDING COMPANY, LTD., is R. B. Logan, Esq., vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, and its vice-president, H. W. Beauchamp, Esq., a director in the Bank of Montreal. Its directorate comprises a number of prominent Montreal business men.

Location and Tenants: The building, erected in 1912, is a fully insured 10-story basement and sub-basement, modern fireproof office building, fronting upon three streets and architecturally imposing. Three incorporated banks, several private banking houses and the general offices of many large industrial concerns are located in the building, among the latter being Canadian Car & Foundry Co., Canadian Explosives Co., Ltd., Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, and Canadian National Telegraphs. It is the largest office building in the city of Montreal.

Value of Property: The value of the property mortgaged to secure these bonds, as shown by expert appraisal, is $2,630,371.

Guarantee: The bonds will be additionally secured as to principal, interest and sinking fund payments by the unconditional guarantee by endorsement on each bond, of P. Lyall & Sons Construction Co., Ltd., whose audited statement as of March 31st, 1922, shows a net tangible worth of over $2,000,000.

Earnings: After all taxes, leasehold payments and operating expenses, the average annual income from rentals (which are steadily and substantially increasing through maturity of low priced leases) for the past four years have been in excess of the amount necessary to pay all annual interest and sinking fund charges on these bonds. Net profits from rentals after all charges for the year ending April 30, 1922, applicable to these bonds is shown by the auditor's statement to be $124,300. The net earnings of the P. Lyall & Sons Construction Co., Ltd., after taxes and applicable to its unconditional guarantee of interest and sinking fund payments, have averaged for the five years ending March 31st, 1922, over five (5) times the interest and three and three-fourths (3 3/4) times both interest and sinking fund charges on these bonds.

In each year since the incorporation of P. Lyall & Sons Construction Co., Ltd., in 1912, a period of ten years, the company's net earnings applicable to its unconditional guarantee of interest and sinking fund payments on this issue have been considerably in excess of such charges.

The above bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of all legal proceedings in connection with this issue by Messrs. Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft, for the bankers, and Messrs. Greenwald, Greenfield & Langsdorf, for the P. Lyall & Sons Construction Co., Ltd., and Messrs. Application will be made to list the Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange

Bolivia, one of the largest of the South American republics, is more than ten times the size of the State of New York and larger than England, France and Germany combined. In mineral resources Bolivia is the third richest country on the Western Hemisphere, being surpassed only by the United States and Mexico. Its silver, tin, copper and bismuth mines are among the richest in the world. Rubber, coffee, cacao, tobacco, sugar cane and other products of the Tropics as well as many of the Temperate Zone are successfully cultivated. Coca, from which cocaine is derived, is raised and exported in large quantities, and the forests contain numerous species of valuable woods. Oil deposits have also been discovered and Chuquisaca is said to contain among the largest oil fields in the world. The population of the Republic is over 2,800,000.

SECURITY OF BONDS: The bonds will be the direct obligations of the Republic of Bolivia and, in addition to the full faith and credit of the public, will, upon completion of present financial operations, be specifically secured by:

- (1) A first lien and charge upon all import and export duties, surcharge on import duties, and taxes on the following: Mining claims, alcohol monopoly, 90% of tobacco monopoly, corporations (other than mining and banking), interest on mortgage cedulas, net income of banks and net profits of mining companies.
- (2) A first lien and charge upon the Government's continuing controlling stock interest in the Banco de la Nacion Boliviana (National Bank of Bolivia) and the dividends declared upon such stock.
- (3) A first mortgage upon the Atocha-Villazon Railroad, now under construction, and the Potosi-Sucre Railroad, about to be constructed, together with a pledge of the net income of such railroads.

If the foregoing taxes and revenues should at any time be insufficient to meet the service of the loan, the Government agrees to provide the deficit out of its general revenues. Additional taxes or revenues, to be approved by the Trustee, will be pledged as security for the loan if the proceeds derived from those pledged fall below one and one half times the amount required for the annual service of the loan.

RECEIPTS FROM PLEDGED REVENUES: According to officials of the Republic of Bolivia the average receipts from the taxes and revenues to be specifically pledged for the service of this loan amounted, for the ten years ended December 31, 1921 (1922 partly estimated), to a sum which, if converted into dollars at the average rate of exchange prevailing during this period, would have been equivalent to over $4,800,000, or more than twice the fixed annual service charge of $2,400,000 on the bonds to be presently outstanding.

COLLECTION OF PLEDGED REVENUES: So long as any of these bonds are outstanding, the collection of all taxes, revenues and income of the Republic will be supervised by a Permanent Fiscal Commission to be appointed by the President. This Commission will consist of three Commissioners, of whom two will be appointed upon recommendation of the Bankers. One of the Commissioners appointed upon the recommendation of the Bankers will be Chairman and Chief Executive of the Commission. All taxes, revenues and income pledged as security for the loan will, as collected, be deposited in a special account in the Banco de la Nacion Boliviana and such deposits will continue to be made until the amount deposited each month shall be equal to one-twelfth of the annual service of the loan. The amounts so deposited will be remitted monthly by the Banco de la Nacion Boliviana to the Trustee in New York.

The legal matters in connection with this loan, including the contract with the Republic and the form of bonds, will be passed upon by Messrs. Curtis, Mallet-Prevost & Colt of New York.

We offer the above bonds, subject to prior sale, if, as and when issued and received by us, at 101 and accrued interest

STERLING RATE JUMPS TO $4.46; CALL MONEY UP

The New York Times

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—The really striking incident of today's financial markets was the advance in sterling exchange to $4.46. The previous high mark of recovery had been the $4.45 of three weeks ago and the present rate is higher than any touched since July 14, 1919, when four months after decline had begun from the wartime "pegged rate" of $4.75.

Call Money Rate Goes Up

On the stock exchange the day's early movement consisted mostly of transparent professional efforts to bid up stocks which could be momentarily controlled by "pools." The later irregularity and rather numerous declines were doubtless influenced by the rise of stock exchange call money rates to 5% per cent, the highest since March.

Analysis of Trade Figures

The increase of $10,000,000 hitherto reported in our total merchandise export surplus for April, as compared with a year ago, lends some interest to today's classification of export and import trade by countries. From that report it appears that our April excess of exports over imports in trade with Europe was $114,000,000, as against $94,000,000 in March and $106,500,000 in April, 1921. In trade with the recent European belligerents our surplus of exports decreased only in the case of England and Italy. With England it was $16,000,000 in April, 1921, and $50,000,000 in April, 1922; with Italy it decreased from $8,300,000 to $7,000,000. The export surplus rose from $2,000,000 to $11,000,000 in trade with France, and from $12,000,000 to $23,000,000 in the case of Germany. No other country shows so large a balance against it in the month's trade with the United States as Germany.

EXPORT DEMAND
AND MILL SALES
ADVANCE WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A change in sentiment was noted in the wheat market. Support was given when most needed, and while private crop reports were construed as bearing the close was at net gains of 3/4¢. Liquidation was on by scattered bags in corn, but the finish was on a rally with net losses of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, while oats were unchanged to 1/4¢ lower and rye 1/2¢ higher.

Reports of large export and milling activity of cash wheat, combined with unexpected strength in Liverpool and Argentine and somewhat less favorable crop reports from Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas were the bullish incentives. Local professionals who have recently been bullish on corn reversed their action yesterday and the undertone was heavy.

Liquidation was on by scattered bags in corn, but the finish was on a rally with net losses of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, while oats were unchanged to 1/4¢ lower and rye 1/2¢ higher.

Private crop reports on oats indicated the prospect for a yield less than normal, but the market was little affected, and with corn easy a decline was easily attained, the finish being on a small rally. Houses with northwestern connections and September rye here, while the market was a fair buyer, and charters were made for 240,000 bu.

Liberal receipts of hogs and lower prices at the yards and a depressing effect on provisions, and while there was no material pressure, the close was 1/2¢ lower on land and 3/4¢ lower on ribs. Settlement was rather bearish. Packing of hogs in the west for the season to date is 1,271,000, against 7,256,000 last year. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN
MARKET-NEWS

The wheat market is righting itself and in a few days is expected to be normal. Sentiment on all grains and especially on wheat has been excessively bullish for a week or more and an upturn was due, as most export contracts were short. While a majority of traders are little to advance or depress value to any extent from the present level, one set of traders who are bearish are selling on hard spots. Eastern houses sold on all bulvers and bought on breaks. Seaboard exporters bought wheat freely on the break and then sold to remove hedge against cash sales of around 1,000,000 bu.

A cash handler said liquidation by buyers is over and with a large short interest and a better cash demand he believed that prices for wheat should work higher. Bearish in buying the wheat, he said. Another cash handler said there is too much cash wheat scattered around the market for holders who are not offering it and buying orders are not easily executed.

The trade on the whole was not improved by the reports of black rust in Texas and rust in Kansas and Indiana. The crop is about ready to cut in Texas.

Corn traders were mainly bearish, but are not making much headway. Iowa is said to be offering less cash corn, while Illinois is selling fairly. Enough corn has been sold of late to make a good movement for a week or more. State of No. 2 mixed were made free on board Baltimore yesterday at 94¢ over July, which a shipper figured equalled 1/2¢ under Chicago July c. i. f. Buffalo.

One shipper has entered the freight market and taken the surplus offerings of boats that were in the grain trade. This has hardened rates 1/4¢ with charters at 2 1/2¢ to 2 3/4¢. Chicago to Buffalo, the higher rate being for Chicago river charter. Yesterday seven boats in the market for grain Wednesday and only one yesterday, with nothing offered for loading before next Wednesday.

Charters have been made the last two days for 8,000,000 bu. grain, including 1,000,000 bu. wheat. 850,000 bu. corn and 240,000 bu. rye that has been reported, the other business being held back. Loading out of this grain will make room for the 2,400 to 2,500 cars of wheat estimated as on track around Chicago and it is expected by elevator interests that within a week all will be unloaded. They unloaded 850 cars of grain here yesterday and only 8,010 cars were on track in all positions yesterday morning.
